best times for low pollen count zyrtec

June 6th, 2020 - on an average day pollen counts rise during the morning peak about midday and then gradually fall so the lowest pollen counts are usually before dawn and in the late afternoon to early evening but this is all relative if the pollen count is very high a moderate decrease later in the day may still leave a high concentration of pollen in the air'
